Popular Water-Garden Collections

AN ECONOMICAL and highly successful way of enjoying these exquisite flowers. Why forego the pleasure of having these gorgeous blooms in your own garden when they grow so easily and beautifully in almost any container. A very charming, little, natural-like pool can be made by simply sinking a wooden tub or similar container a few inches below the level of the surrounding ground and placing about it rocks and border plants. By grouping two, three, or more tubs at different levels and surrounding them with rocks and border plants, you may have a series of tiny pools, each with a different Waterlily and Water Plants.

$5 Complete Tub-Garden $5

Waterlilies The Garden's Most Gorgeous Flowers

A Lily pool is the most fascinating thing in the garden. Interesting, for the strange and varied plants are gathered from all parts of the world. Colorful, for the deep green of the luxuriant tropical foliage contrasts with the delicate pink and blue of the Day-blooming Lilies and the pure white, soft yellow, and brilliant red of the hardy varieties. 'Mid these, goldfish flash like darting sunbeams from the Orient.

Watch the beautiful flowers unfold with the rising sun and close at evening, when the Night-blooming Lilies open their immense buds into richly colored petals. And with all it is so easy to have and to keep a water-garden—no fussing, no cultivating, no weeding, no watering, and no transplanting.

THE FINEST PLANTS FOR YOUR AQUARIUM

An aquarium requires little attention, gives much of beauty and interest, and is an aid to nature study in the home and the classroom. Plants and snails are essential if the aquarium is to be made attractive and healthful for the fish. Plants neutralize impurities, give off the oxygen which the fish breathe, establish the required balance between plant life and animal life, and do away with the necessity for constant changing of the water.

The plants in these collections are especially selected for aquarium purposes and the groups are made up for varying sizes of aquariums so that the proper balance may be maintained.

A ten-gallon aquarium can be planted attractively and kept in order with ten or a dozen plants, and two or three pair of snails.
